

Stakeholder Influence on IO Bureaucracies: State and Non-state Actors in International Organization

Panel Chair: Theresa Squatrito, University of Liverpool, T.Squatrito@liverpool.ac.uk

Abstract:

To be proposed to the Section: 21st Century International Bureaucracy: People, Power and Performance

Scholars have long debated the extent to which the policies and operations of international institutions are influenced by state and non-state actors alike. Various actors seek to influence IOs, but the many ways in which they do so is underexplored, especially when it comes to non-traditional stakeholders, such as NGOs and private foundations and corporations. This panel aims to enhance the profile of this scholarship by inviting a range of contributions on various aspects of stakeholder influence in the operations of international organizations.

To submit a proposal, you will need to create a MyECPR account and submit the following information by 16 February:

- Your name, academic affiliation and email address
- The title of your paper
- An abstract of up to 500 words.
- 3 to 8 keywords
